

China

Music , lyrics , arrangement, lead vocal, all instruments: Artic Blue (Geert Verelst)

Late at night

She wants someone to hold her tight

In this restless world

She wants to be heard

Say her name

And let her know she's not to blame

A lost soul all alone

A stranger without home

*What she needs is more

Of your love

Someone she's dreaming of

A tender hand to hold

That's all that she wants

China is at your door

She only wants to adore

Because she knows it ain't easy to be loved

When you're so far away from home

China is at your door

Won't you just give her more

More than an easy hello

Ore a smile

And then swiftly walk away.

Make her see

The girl that she is meant to be

Make her dreams shine bright

Like stars in a clear night

Take her hand

Make sure that she will understand

There is room for her here

Someone who holds her dear

*What she needs is more.....

China is at your door.....
